DURING the past few years, a great number of Shorthorn herds have been dispersed, greatly reducing the number of herds maintained in all parts of the country. Indications are that the demand for herd bulls and good breeding females will greatly exceed the supply available for years to come. As demand exceeds the supply, it is only reasonable to expect better prices in the future.

During our career as breeders, there has never been a time that we would recommend stronger than now the purchase of good breeding Shorthorns at prevailing prices.

The cattle offered in this sale are, for the most part, young things just in good breeding condition. As to breeding and individual merit, they will compare favorably with our annual offerings the past few years.

It is our urgent desire that all interested in good Shorthorns will be with us sale day.
